SUBSIDY PROSPECT DISTURBS MARKET

Foreign Operators Trying to Overcome 5 Per Cent. Income Cut for Shippers.

The prospect of the passage of the ship substdy bill is already causing freight market, according to shipping men in close touch with the situation. Shippers and operators are jockeying for on in the expectation that the time is not far off when the indirect aids for the American vessels provided in the legislation will be made effective.

What is causing particular concern is the provision permitting shippers to deduct from their income taxes 5 per cent. of the total freight money paid on The advantage to ships of domestic registry that would accrue from the opera-

istry that would accrue from the operation of this feature of the marine act has yet to be precisely determined, but it is conceded to be considerable.

Some operators of foreign ships are said to be desirous of concluding long term contracts with shippers, if necessary at rates under current conference tariffs, and to this rather than the general overtonnaging of the market is ascribed the recent disturbances in the conferences, including the Mediterranean-Levant, the Spanish, the French Continental and the Hamburg-Bremen.
Long term sugar and provision contracts were the center of most of the disputes. It is argued that the income tax feature of the proposed legislation cannot become effective while these contracts are in force.

arnot become effective while these con-racts are in force.

It is a moot point whether a cut in cean freight rates of 5 per cent. by oreign operators under the American evel would mean the same thing to the shipper as the income tax deduction. In the view of the framers of the legisla-tion, the advantage to the American ship could not so be overcome. Uncertainty over this point contributes to the gen-erally disturbed state of the market.

ITALIAN AMBASSADOR CRITICIZES TARIFF BILL

About 500 guests of the Italian Chamber of Commerce in New York yesterday inspected the new passenger liner of the Lloyd Sabaudo at her pler, 95 North River. Luncheon was served on the upper deck, which is used rather than the main dining room when the weather is favorable, and after there were talks by Vittorio Rolandi-Ricci, Italian Ambassafor to the United States, and Dr. Meri-

Mr. Rolandi-Ricci said that enactment of the tariff bill now in Congress would have a depressing effect upon Italian trade with the United States. He praised the stand taken by THE NEW TORK HERALD for a scientific treatment of the tariff problem. He called upon Italian business men to aid in the least trade of the tariff problem. Italian business men to aid in the importation of products from Italy.

Dr. Serrati said that the operation of the Conte Rosso, to be followed later by the Guillo Cesare, meant that Italian steamship lines were turning away from the immigrant traffic, to which they were mainly confined in the past, in favor of a luxurious service second to none. The Italian lines, he said, would have to cooperate for the benefit of the country's trade and shipping.
